

August 6, 2010 witnessed a spectacle of sorts at FORE School of Management with the seventeenth Annual Convocation Ceremony 2010. Mr. R. C. Sharma, President, FORE School of Management, declared the convocation open. Dr. J. K. Das, Director, FSM, introduced the honourable Chief Guest, Ms. Chanda Kochhar, Managing Director (MD) and Chief Executive Officer of ICICI Bank and presented the activity report. He highlighted the activities conducted at FSM in the past year including the MoUs signed by the institute, the international seminars and research work conducted by various faculties.

Mr. R. P. Billimoria, President-Emeritus, FORE, gave a welcome address highlighting the achievements of the Chief Guest, Ms. Chanda Kochhar. The President, Mr. R. C. Sharma delivered a passionate speech focussing on the importance of ethics in the corporate world. This was followed by the convocation address delivered by Ms. Chanda Kochhar who addressed the feelings of excitement as well as the apprehensions of the students entering the corporate world. She fervently talked about the opportunities existing in post-liberalisation India, the evolution in technology and communication and the importance of innovation.

The students of Post-Graduate diploma in Management, Future Managers Group (FMG XVII), International Manager Group (IMG II) and the Working Managers Group (WVG XVI) were awarded their diplomas by the President. The academic awards were delivered by the honourable Chief Guest, Ms. Chanda Kochhar. The convocation ceremony was successfully concluded with a vote of thanks proposed by Dr. J. K. Das.

"You are demanded not only to cope with change but also foresee change and be prepared for change and cause change", Ms. Kochhar advised the students. In a way this phrase beautifully encapsulates the evening that would stay etched in FORE's history for years to come.
