FORE MUN 2024

The inaugural Model United Nations (MUN) at FORE School of Management saw a resounding success with two committees, namely UNCTAD and UNGA, engaging a total of 80 delegates. Amidst fervent debates and diplomatic negotiations, participants showcased their prowess in diplomacy and policy-making. The event provided a platform for students to delve into global issues, hone their public speaking skills, and foster diplomatic relationships. With its debut, the MUN at FORE School of Management has set a promising precedent for future editions, promising to be a cornerstone of academic and intellectual discourse for years to come. The agenda for UNGA was "Ensuring Access to education in crisis situation"- Discussing initiative to safeguard and promote education in conflict zones and areas affected by emergencies, Emphasizing the right to education for all. and for UCTAD "Trade and Climate Change" - Exploring The intersection of trade policies and climate interest and environmental sustainability

GLOBUZZ 6.0

Globuzz is the Seminar conducted by Team IBF wherein we invited Ms. Rochi Khemka, Global Partnership Coordinator, World Bank at Globuzz 6.0, to provide exposure to the students about “Working In Global Organisations: Opportunities And Challenges.”

Ms. Khemka led the students in a highly interactive session by sharing her insights on the value of self-reflection, setting specific priorities, and embracing curiosity. Emphasizing that a career spans decades, one must value personal growth, meditative practices, and material goals as well as nurturing personal passions. Rochi Khemka's journey serves as an inspiring testament to the importance of holistic growth, learning, and adaptability in the professional realm. The insights shared by her provide valuable guidance to individuals navigating their careers, emphasizing the amalgamation of passion, skill development, and personal well-being. Students from all sections actively participated in the Seminar to learn about working in global organisations like World Bank and IFC, difficulties, and potential going forward.

This time a total of 60 students were present, and the seminar was concluded with a note of gratitude towards our esteemed Speaker and the IBF Faculty Coordinator.
