

Employee Performance Review System in Russian Companies: An Overview

Priyanka Jaiswal

Assistant Professor

FORE School of Management

New Delhi 110 016

E-mail: p.jaiswal@fsm.ac.in

Abstract

With the globalization, most of the companies are following standard HR practices to manage the culture of their organization. When we see the Russian companies, it has huge market throughout the world. This article, explores the performance review system in Russia. It also examines that how Russian companies are managing their performance review system, to maintain organizational productivity and sustainability. As employee performance is the core of company's growth and achievement. This article gives a brief introduction of performance review followed in Russia.

Key word: Russia, Employee Performance, Performance Review System, Russian companies

Acknowledgement: The infrastructural support provided by FORE School of Management, New Delhi is gratefully appreciated.